

~~Part of Gallahee~~

No. 17

Little and Memorized

A pretty maid she to the miller would go
When a soul so wantonly,

A pretty maid she, to the miller would go

Whether her mother would let her or no

She says she'll have my corn ground small @ full price

When the miller he laid her against the mill lippen

He pulled up her clewths, and he put in the stoppen <sup>When a soul &c</sup> <sup>The miller he laid her &c</sup>

She says she'll have my corn ground &c

The miller he laid her against the mill sack

While the stones went click a-te clack. <sup>When a soul &c</sup> <sup>The miller he laid &c</sup>

She says she, &c

No. 18
Bonny Kate and Darry

A loving couple met one day, Bonny Kate and Darry
~~Bonny Kate and Darry~~ both together to sport and play.

And so to pass the time away he showed her little Darry.

He took her to his father's barn Bonny Kate and Darry

He took her to his father's barn when he pulled out his long

And it was as long — as this my arm.

And he called it little Darry.

He took to the river side Bonny Kate and Darry

He took her to the river side and there he laid her long <sup>with</sup>

And in her belly he did ride.

And he whipp'd it in little Darry.

He took her &c — to several places —

When forty weeks were come and gone Bonny Kate and Darry

When forty weeks were come and gone — &c

She was deliver'd of a son and she call'd it little Darry.